Collaborative law is a non-adversarial alternative to the traditional divorce process. In the collaborative law model, each party is represented by a lawyer who guides them through the process of creative problem solving. Most of the work in this “transparent” process is done in four-way conferences where both lawyers and both clients participate in an open and informal exchange of information and ideas. Agreements are made through a process of “interest-based negotiation,” which encourages the parties to move away from taking “positions” and move toward compromises to meet their identified goals.

One of the goals of the process is to enhance communication between the parties so that they are able to resolve their own conflicts in the future. Parties involved in the process often report that their spouses have listened to them for the first time.

JOSEPH SARVADI, Plaintiff

FAMILY FIRST SPORTS PARK, INC., GARY RENAUD, an individual, and JAMES RIMMER, an individual, Defendants

TORTS / INTERFERENCE WITH PROSPECTIVE ADVANTAGE

Interference with Prospective Advantage, the publication of disparaging statements concerning the business of another, is actionable where each of the following elements have been met: (1) the statement which concerns the business of another is false; (2) the publisher either intends the publication to cause pecuniary loss or reasonably should recognize that publication will result in pecuniary loss; (3) pecuniary loss does, in fact, occur; and (4) the publisher either knows that the statement is false, or acts in reckless disregard of its truth or falsity.

TORTS / INTERFERENCE WITH PROSPECTIVE ADVANTAGE

Where employee's position was terminated following employee's extra-marital affair with his secretary and employee's subsequent employment leave for personal issues and stress, statements made by employer to prospective employers stating that employee had taken leave from employment "for personal reasons" and was terminated "as a result of (employee's) extra-marital affair", and those statements were admitted by Plaintiff in the pleadings to be factually accurate, they did not satisfy the 'false statement' requirement to permit a claim of Interference with Prospective Advantage, and summary judgment on this issue was proper.

TORTS / DEFAMATION

In an action for Defamation, Plaintiff has the burden to prove the following:

(1) the defamatory character of the Defendants' statements; (2) that Defendants published the statements; (3) that the recipients of the statements understood the defamatory meaning of them and understood that the statements were intended to be applied to the Plaintiff; (4) that Plaintiff suffered special harm as the result of the publication of the defamatory statements; and (5) that the Defendants abused a conditionally privileged occasion in publishing the information contained in the statements.

TORTS / DEFAMATION

Under Pennsylvania law, truth of an alleged defamatory statement is a complete and absolute defense to a civil claim for Defamation.

TORTS / DEFAMATION

Where statements about employee's termination for conducting extra-marital affair with secretary and for taking employment leave for personal reasons were made by former employer to prospective employers of terminated employee, such statements, while possibly "inappropriate", were nonetheless admitted to be “factually truthful” by the Plaintiff in the pleadings, the truth of the statements provides a complete bar to Plaintiff’s claim for Defamation, and summary judgment is appropriate.

PLEADING / TORTS / INTENTIONAL INFLICTION OF EMOTIONAL DISTRESS

In order to state a claim under which relief for Intentional Infliction of Emotional Distress may be granted, the Plaintiff must allege physical injury. Physical manifestations of emotional suffering found sufficient to state a cause of action in cases alleging Negligent Infliction of Emotional Distress, such as depression, nightmares, stress and anxiety resulting from the Defendants’ actions, are also sufficient to support a claim for Intentional Infliction of Emotional Distress when properly plead by Plaintiff.

EMOTIONAL DISTRESS*

Plaintiff’s allegations of physical manifestation of emotional suffering following termination of his employment by Defendants through depression, anxiety, anger, panic and suicidal tendencies, all supported by the medical documentation of his treating medical and psychological professionals, were sufficient to preclude summary judgment in Plaintiff’s claim of Intentional Infliction of Emotional Distress.

Statement of Facts

On March 18, 1996, Plaintiff began employment as Director of Basketball Operations for Defendant Family First, and on June 20, 1998, entered into an individual employment contract in connection with his promotion to Director of Operations. Second Amended Complaint, ¶¶ 7-8; Answer to the Second Amended Complaint, ¶ 7; Defendants' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment, p. 1. On or about October 2001, Plaintiff became involved in a three-week extramarital affair with his secretary. Second Amended Complaint, ¶ 12; Defendants' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment, p. 1. Either during or after the affair, Plaintiff contacted Defendant Rimmer. Second Amended Complaint, ¶ 13; Defendants' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment, p. 1. At that time, Defendant Rimmer was Director of Leadership employed by Defendant Family First. Id. In January of 2002, Plaintiff took personal leave for the following reasons: "personal issues that [he] needed to deal with," and that he was "stressed out." Second Amended Complaint, ¶¶ 14-15; Defendants' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment, p. 2, Exhibit A, p. 42.

On January 30, 2002, Plaintiff had a meeting in the office of Defendant Renaud where he met with both Defendant Renaud and Defendant Rimmer. Second Amended Complaint, ¶¶ 16-18; Defendants' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment, pp. 2-3, Exhibit A, p. 37. During this meeting, Defendant Renaud relayed to Plaintiff that Defendant Rimmer had advised him of Plaintiff's affair, and as a result, Plaintiff would be fired from his employment with Defendant Family First.¹ Id. Once fired, Plaintiff sought work from the following employers: Edinboro University of Pennsylvania, via Bruce Baumgartner; Hospitality Services Incorporated, via Lisa Titcombe; Enterprise Rent-A-Car, via Mike Parry; Kress Financial Services, via Dan Kress; and Pennbriar Athletic Club, via Rick Sertz. Second Amended Complaint, ¶¶ 20-21; Defendants' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment, pp. 2-4, Exhibit A, pp. 56, 58, 61, 63. As a result of Plaintiff seeking employment from the above organizations, Defendant Rimmer was involved in conversations with each of the above-mentioned contacts. Second Amended Complaint, ¶¶ 22-28. During these discussions, Defendant Rimmer informed the contacts that Plaintiff had taken his leave for mental health and/or his termination was a result of his affair. Id.; Defendants' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment, pp. 3-4, Exhibit A, pp. 56, 58, 61, 63.

Beginning February 5, 2002, Plaintiff received care from Dr. Victor Masone, a Ph.D. specializing in counseling services. Brief in Opposition to Defendants' Motion for Summary Judgment, pp. 6-7; Plaintiff's Reply to Defendants' Motion for Summary Judgment, Exhibit 1. According to a June 5, 2008 letter written by Dr. Masone, Plaintiff was already receiving treatment at the time of his termination for depression and family issues. Supplemental Exhibits to the Plaintiff's Reply to the Defendants' Motion for Summary Judgment, Exhibit 1. Dr. Masone also indicated Plaintiff suffered from a "distressed emotional state following his dismissal," was ¹ Plaintiff avers his termination was solely the result of his affair. Second Amended Complaint, ¶ 16. Defendants aver Plaintiff's termination to have been the result not only the affair, but also the result of his failures to comply with company policy and his mishandling of company funds. Answer to Second Amended Complaint, ¶ 16; Defendants' Brief in Support of Motion for Partial Summary Judgment, p. 2, Exhibit B, pp. 61-65.

"distraught," and was "having difficulty emotionally at that time." Id. On or about January 2003, Plaintiff relocated to Texas for employment. Second Amended Complaint, ¶ 30. While in Texas, Plaintiff was treated by Chad A. Hogan, M.D. Plaintiff's Reply to Defendants' Motion for Summary Judgment, Exhibit 2. Dr. Hogan's records show Plaintiff largely suffered from the following: anxiety, depression, and suicidal tendencies. Id. Other medical documents reveal Plaintiff suffered from depression and anxiety subsequent to his January 30, 2002 termination. Plaintiff's Reply to Defendants' Motion for Summary Judgment, Exhibits 1-2; Supplemental Exhibits to the Plaintiff's Reply to the Defendants' Motion for Summary Judgment, Exhibits 1-2.

Analysis of Law

The general issue before the Court is whether Defendants collectively, as the moving party, are entitled to partial summary judgment, that is, whether they have shown the absence of genuine issues of material fact as to necessary elements of the current causes of action pursuant to Pennsylvania Rules of Civil Procedure (hereinafter "PA Civil Rules") 1035.1 et seq. The PA Civil Rules provide that summary judgment is appropriate when: the record² demonstrates that there exists "no genuine issue of material fact as to a necessary element of the cause of action or defense that could be established by additional discovery or expert report;" or "an adverse party who will bear the burden of proof at trial has failed to produce evidence of facts essential to the cause of action or defense which in a jury trial would require the issues to be submitted to a jury." Pa.R.C.P. 1035.2.

Any party may move for summary judgment, in whole or in part, after the relevant pleadings are closed. Ertel v. The Patriot-News Co., 674 A.2d 1038, 1041 (Pa. 1996). It is the burden of the moving party to prove that no genuine issues of material fact exist. Id. Therefore, the record is reviewed in the light most favorable to the nonmoving party and all doubts as to the existence of a genuine issue of material fact are to be resolved against the moving party. Id. The nonmoving party, however, may not rest upon the mere allegations or denials of its pleadings, but must set forth, either by affidavit or otherwise, specific facts showing there is a genuine issue for trial. Id. at 1042. Defendants are entitled to judgment as a matter of law if, after assessing the relevant facts, it is clear to the Court that no reasonable jury could find in favor of Plaintiff. See, Washington v. Baxter, 719 A.2d 733, 737 (Pa. 1998). In determining whether Defendants are entitled to partial summary judgment, the Court, in viewing the record in the light most favorable to Plaintiff, has weighed applicable law as it relates to the facts of this case as well as the merit of the arguments presented by the parties.

Though the general issue before the Court is whether Defendants are entitled to partial summary judgment, the specific issue before the Court is whether Plaintiff has failed to produce evidence of facts essential to three of the four causes of action as contained in his Second Amended Complaint.³ These three actions are as follows: Interference with Prospective Advantage, Defamation, and Intentional Infliction of Emotional Distress.

COUNT II: INTERFERENCE WITH PROSPECTIVE ADVANTAGE

Interference with Prospective Advantage, i.e., the publication of disparaging statements concerning the business of another, is actionable where each of the following elements have been met: (1) the statement - which concerns the business of another - is false; (2) the publisher either intends the publication to cause pecuniary loss or reasonably should recognize that publication will result in pecuniary loss; (3) pecuniary loss does in fact result; and (4) the publisher either knows that the statement is false or acts in reckless disregard of its truth or falsity. See, Pro Golf Manufacturing v. Tribune Review Newspaper Co., 761 A.2d 553, 555-56 (Pa. Super. 2000); rev'd on other grounds, 809 A.2d 243 (Pa. 2002). Plaintiff avers Defendants' statements of and concerning his mental state and extra-marital affair published to his potential employers constitute Interference with Prospective Advantage. Second Amended Complaint ¶ 37 - 43.

The Pennsylvania Superior Court in Pro Golf Manufacturing clearly found that in order to succeed on a claim of Interference with Prospective Advantage, each of the above-four elements must be met. Id. at 555-56. A thorough reading of the record reveals that while Plaintiff believed the comments made by Defendant Rimmer to each of the potential employers were "inappropriate," he stated such comments were, however, "factually truthful." Defendants' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment, p. 4, Exhibit A, p. 56, 58, 61, 63; Plaintiff's Reply to Defendants' Motion for Summary Judgment, ¶ 15. As Plaintiff admits the statements made to the prospective employers were truthful, the Court finds element one (which requires the statement to be false) cannot be met. Due to Plaintiff's deposed admission of the statements' truth, each of the elements cannot be met and it is, therefore, clear to the Court that no reasonable jury could find in favor of Plaintiff regarding his claim of interference with Prospective Advantage.

³ Count I of Plaintiff's Second Amended Complaint, Intentional Interference with Business Relations, has not been challenged in Defendant's Motion for Partial Summary Judgment. Second Amended Complaint, ¶¶ 32-36; Defendant's Motion for Partial Summary Judgment, ¶¶ 1-32; Defendant's Brief in Support of Motion for Partial Summary Judgment, pp. 1-11.

COUNT III: DEFAMATION

In his action for Defamation, Plaintiff has the burden of proving the defamatory character of Defendants' statements; that Defendants published those statements; that those statements applied to Plaintiff; that the recipients of those statements understood the defamatory meaning, and understood the statements were intended to be applied to Plaintiff; that Plaintiff suffered special harm as a result of the publication; and that Defendants abused a conditionally privileged occasion. See, 42 P.S. § 8343(a). However, in Pennsylvania, defamatory statements will not provide a basis for recovery when such statements are true. See, Bobb v. Kraybill, 511 A.2d 1379 (Pa. Super. 1986), citing, Hepps v. Philadelphia Newspapers, Inc., 485 A.2d 374 (Pa. 1984); Dunlap v. Philadelphia Newspapers, Inc., 448 A.2d 6, 12 (Pa. Super. 1981). In Pennsylvania, truth of the alleged defamatory statement is a complete and absolute defense to civil actions for Defamation. Id.

Once more, while Plaintiff believes the comments to each of the potential employers were "inappropriate," he stated such comments were, however, "factually truthful." Defendants' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment, p. 4, Exhibit A, p. 56, 58, 61, 63; Plaintiff's Reply to Defendants' Motion for Summary Judgment, ¶ 15. As Plaintiff admits the statements made to the prospective employers were true, the Court finds the truth of the published statements to be a complete and absolute defense to Plaintiff's claim of Defamation. Due to Plaintiff's deposed admission of the statements' truth, it is clear to the Court that no reasonable jury could find in favor of Plaintiff regarding his claim of Defamation as Defendants have pled a complete and absolute defense to such a claim.

COUNT IV: INTENTIONAL INFLICTION OF EMOTIONAL DISTRESS

Regarding Intentional Infliction of Emotional Distress, the Pennsylvania Supreme Court found:

It is basic to tort law that an injury is an element to be proven. Given the advanced state of medical science, it is unwise and unnecessary to permit recovery to be predicated on an inference based on a defendant's outrageousness without expert medical confirmation that the plaintiff actually suffered the claimed distress. Moreover, the requirement of some objective proof of severe emotional distress will not present an insurmountable obstacle to recovery. Therefore, if the tort of intentional infliction of severe emotional distress is to be accepted in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, at the very least, existence of the alleged emotional distress must be supported by competent medical evidence.

Kazatsky v. King David Memorial Park, Inc., 527 A.2d 988, 995 (Pa. 1987). Supplementing the Pennsylvania Supreme Court's decision in Kazatsky, the Pennsylvania Superior Court found, "there is much controversy over whether Pennsylvania jurisprudence recognizes the tort of intentional infliction of emotional distress . . . [h]owever, it is clear that in Pennsylvania, in order to state a claim under which relief can be granted for intentional infliction of emotional distress, the plaintiffs must allege physical injury." Hart v. O'Malley, 647 A.2d 542, 553-54 (Pa. Super. 1994). The Pennsylvania Superior Court in Hart, in order to support its finding that a plaintiff must allege physical injury in order to state a claim under which relief can be granted for Intentional Infliction of Emotional Distress, cites (inter alia) a 1992 Pennsylvania Superior Court case holding a plaintiff must allege physical injury for claims of Negligent Infliction of Emotional Distress. Hart, 647 A.2d at 553-54, citing, Love v. Cramer, 606 A.2d 1175 (Pa. Super. 1992).

The Pennsylvania Superior Court in Love, found that physical manifestations of emotional suffering, i.e., depression, nightmares, stress, and anxiety, resulting from a defendant's actions were sufficient to sustain a cause of action for Negligent Infliction of Emotional Distress as they constitute physical injury. Love, 606 A.2d at 1179. In the present case, Plaintiff similarly exhibited exacerbated physical manifestations of emotional suffering resulting from his termination, namely: depression, anxiety, anger, panic, and suicidal tendencies. Plaintiff's Reply to Defendants' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment, Exhibits 1, 2; Supplemental Exhibits to the Plaintiff's Reply to the Defendants' Motion for Summary Judgment, Exhibits 1, 2. Plaintiff's alleged physical manifestations of emotional suffering resulting from Defendants' actions are supported by the medical documentation of Doctors Masone and Hogan. Id.

Pursuant to the Pennsylvania Supreme Court's ruling in Kazatsky, the Court finds the existence of Plaintiff's alleged emotional distress is supported by competent medical evidence. Pursuant to the Pennsylvania Superior Court's ruling in Hart, the Court finds Plaintiff's alleged emotional distress constitutes alleged physical injuries according to physical injury as defined by the Pennsylvania Superior Court in Love.⁴ As Plaintiff has alleged physical injuries manifesting themselves though emotional suffering, the Court finds he has produced evidence of facts essential to his Intentional infliction of Emotional Distress cause of

Pursuant to the above analysis, summary judgment in favor of Defendants as to Plaintiff's claims of Interference with Prospective Advantage and Defamation is proper. Because Plaintiff admitted the statements that were made to prospective employers were true - which provides Defendants absolute defenses to such claims - the provided evidence as viewed in a light most favorable to the nonmoving party clearly reveals no reasonable jury could find in favor of Plaintiff regarding these two claims. Consequently, Defendants' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment is granted as to Plaintiff's claims of Interference with Prospective Advantage and Defamation only because no genuine issues of material fact remain as to these two counts.

Pursuant to the above analysis, summary judgment in favor of Defendants as to Plaintiff's claim of Intentional Infliction of Emotional Distress is not proper. Because Plaintiff suffers from medically documented physical / emotional injuries, the provided evidence as viewed in a light most favorable to the nonmoving party clearly reveals a reasonable jury could find in favor of Plaintiff regarding this claim. Consequently, Defendants' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment is denied as to Plaintiff's claim of Intentional Infliction of Emotional Distress because genuine issues of material fact remain as to this one count.

ORDER

AND NOW, TO-WIT, this 23rd day of July, 2008, it is hereby ORDERED, ADJUDGED, and DECREED that, for the reasons set forth in the foregoing Opinion, Defendants' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment is GRANTED as to Plaintiff's claims of Interference with Prospective Advantage and Defamation, while Defendant's Motion for Partial Summary Judgment is DENIED as to Plaintiff's claim of Intentional Infliction of Emotional Distress. Therefore, Counts II and III of Plaintiff's Second Amended Complaint are hereby dismissed.

Videoconferencing Services

Your connection to the world of communication.

WHAT IS VIDEOCONFERENCING?

Technology that allows you to conduct business face-to-face with others who are in a different city, state or country - as if they were in the room with you. The audio and video are crisp, clear and immediate.

WHAT ARE THE BENEFITS OF VIDEOCONFERENCING?

Saving time and money while adding convenience. For example, a two hour meeting with someone in Denver, Colorado takes two hours by videoconference. Traveling to and from Denver takes at least 24 hours, if not more, along with the expense of air fare and hotel accommodations.

Videoconferencing also eliminates time away from family as well as catching up on work, phone calls, and E-mail when you return - thus, eliminating stress and increasing productivity.

WHO MAY USE THIS SERVICE?

It is available to our members and to the business community.

WHAT CAN VIDEOCONFERENCING BE USED FOR?

Depositions, examination of expert witnesses, job interviews, business meetings and seminars are common examples.

HOW DO I FIND A VIDEOCONFERENCING SITE IN THE CITY WHERE THE OTHER PARTY IS LOCATED?

The ECBA will do this for you, and can provide you with that site's hourly rate.

DO I HAVE TO OPERATE ANY EQUIPMENT DURING A VIDEOCONFERENCE?

No. The ECBA staff will handle everything.

Rates, including scheduling, location of distant site, set up, testing, room rental, and conference

Members of the Erie County Bar Association should contact the ECBA office regarding member rates.

For the Public, the Erie County Bar Association charges $215/hour during business hours of Monday-Friday, 8:30 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. Rates are $270/hour for conferences within 2 hours before or 4 hours after regular business hours. These rates are for the ECBA receiving a videoconference call initiated by the another site. If we initiate the call, add $75/hour.

Optional services/fees:

$25 - VHS tape of conference

$25/hour - use of conference room before and/or after videoconference

Contact the Erie County Bar Association for further details or to schedule a demonstration. (814) 459-3111 or admin@eriebar.com
