COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA*v.TERRENCE S. SIMPSONSUPPRESSION OF EVIDENCE / BURDEN OF PROOF

Once a motion to suppress has been filed, it is the Commonwealth's burden to prove by a preponderance of the evidence the challenged evidence was not obtained in violation of defendant's rights.

SEARCH AND SEIZURE / WHAT CONSTITUTES A SEARCH

A search occurs when the Government obtains information by physically intruding on a constitutionally protected area.

SEARCH AND SEIZURE / CURTILAGE

The curtilage of a home is the area immediately surrounding and associated with the home and is part of the home for Fourth Amendment purposes. While boundaries of the curtilage are generally clearly marked, the concept of curtilage can be easily understood from daily experience. In determining what constitutes curtilage, the court is to consider factors that determine whether an individual reasonably may expect that an area immediately adjacent to the home will remain private. The front porch is a classic example of curtilage for Fourth Amendment purposes.

SEARCH AND SEIZURE / CURTILAGE / INVESTIGATION

Police officers may enter the curtilage to conduct an investigation. A police officer not armed with a warrant may approach a home and knock, because that is no more than any private citizen may do. The implicit license to knock typically permits the visitor to approach the home by the front path, knock promptly, wait briefly to be received, then leave absent invitation to linger longer. The scope of a license - express or implied - is limited not only to a particular area but also to a specific purpose.

SEARCH AND SEIZURE / CURTILAGE

Entry onto the curtilage is generally not a Fourth Amendment violation when the curtilage is used by the public.

SEARCH AND SEIZURE / WARRANTLESS SEARCH

Probable cause and exigent circumstances are required for a warrantless search. Without a showing of probable cause, the Commonwealth cannot claim an exigency exception to the warrant requirement.

SEARCH AND SEIZURE / ILLEGAL SEARCH / REMEDY

The remedy for an illegal search is the exclusion of all the evidence derived from the illegal search.

SEARCH AND SEIZURE / SEARCH WARRANT / LEGALITY OF INFORMATION:

The inclusion of illegally obtained evidence will not invalidate a search warrant if the warrant is also based upon other sources valid and sufficient to constitute probable cause.

PRETRIAL PROCEEDINGS / BURDEN OF PROOF

Hearsay evidence alone may establish a prima facie case at a preliminary hearing.

CRIMINAL DIVISION NO. 3147 of 2015

Philip B. Friedman, Esq., Attorney for Defendant

MEMORANDUM OPINION

Brabender, J. April 7, 2016

The matter is before the Court on Defendant's Omnibus Pre-Trial Motion and Application for Writ of Habeas Corpus. After an evidentiary hearing and the submission of briefs, the Omnibus Pre-Trial Motion shall be GRANTED. The Application for Writ of Habeas Corpus shall be DENIED.

BACKGROUND

On July 31, 2015, Officer Andrew Miller, an officer with the Albion Police Department, entered the Defendant's property. The officer conducted an investigation, and during the course thereof, made observations which prompted him to obtain a search warrant.

The Defendant was subsequently charged as follows:

- Count One - Operating a Methamphetamine Laboratory;<sup>1</sup>
- Count Two - Possession With Intent to Deliver;<sup>2</sup>
- Count Three - Illegal Dumping of Methamphetamine Waste;<sup>3</sup>
- Count Four - Liquefied Ammonia Gas; Precursors and Chemicals;<sup>4</sup>
- Count Five - Possession of Pseudoephedrine for Methamphetamine Manufacture;<sup>5</sup>
- Count Six - Possession;<sup>6</sup> and
- Count Seven - Possession of Drug Paraphernalia.<sup>7</sup>

Defendant filed an Omnibus Pre-Trial Motion on January 26, 2016, requesting suppression of seized items. Concurrently, Defendant filed an Application for Writ of Habeas Corpus. A hearing was held on the Defendant's motions on February 22, 2016. The parties subsequently filed briefs.

FACTUAL FINDINGS

On July 31, 2015, while on patrol duty at approximately 9:45 a.m., Officer Andrew Miller of the Albion Police Department was traveling westbound on North Street, approaching the intersection of North Street and North Main Street, in the Borough of Albion, Pennsylvania.<sup>8</sup>

<sup>8</sup> North Street runs generally perpendicular to North Main Street. At the corner of the two streets, there is a parking lot owned by the Borough of Albion. Defendant's residence is located at 95 North Main Street, next to the parking lot. The front of Defendant's residence faces North Main Street. There is a driveway next to Defendant's residence, which runs along the side of the house which is opposite to the parking lot. The driveway side of the house is bounded by a row of tall bushes, and tall, cone-shaped evergreen trees or shrubs which separates Defendant's property from the neighbor's property. Defendant's Exhibits 6-9, 11; Commonwealth's Exhibit "B". The other side of Defendant's property is bounded by tall pine trees and shorter bushes next to Defendant's house. On this side of the property, in the backyard; the ground at the edge of the yard slopes down to the parking lot which abuts the property. Defendant's Exhibits 2, 11; Commonwealth's Exhibit "B". The back of Defendant's residence is accessible via Defendant's driveway, or by cutting through the backyard from either the parking lot on the one side of Defendant's property or from the neighbor's property on the other side.

As Officer Miller approached the intersection of North Street and North Main Street, the officer looked over to his left toward the parking lot which abuts one side of Defendant's residence at 95 North Main Street, and observed a maroon Dodge pickup truck in the back of Defendant's residence, in the driveway, with the passenger side door open. The officer continued on his way, onto North Main Street. The truck could only be seen from the side of the house which abuts the parking lot. The truck was not visible from the front of the residence which faces North Main Street.

The officer testified that, approximately 45 minutes later, he was again traveling westbound on North Main Street<sup>9</sup> and observed the same vehicle, the maroon Dodge pick up truck, in the same location in Defendant's backyard. The officer again observed the passenger-side door to the truck was open.

Apparently assuming the door to the truck had remained open the entire 45 minutes that had passed since the officer first observed the truck in Defendant's backyard, and not seeing anyone around the vehicle or on the property, the officer became concerned someone might be hurt or injured, or that "something was going on." Officer Miller pulled his vehicle into the parking lot adjacent to the Defendant's residence, exited the vehicle, cut through the Defendant's backyard, walked up to the open door of the vehicle, and looked inside the truck, to see if someone was there. Not finding anyone in or around the vehicle, the officer knocked on the back door of the residence.<sup>10</sup> The officer testified he did so to find out why the vehicle door was open; if anyone inside the residence was O.K.; or if there was a problem.

The back door to the residence opens from a raised deck which is attached to the rear of the house, and wraps around the back of the residence. There are three steps to the deck. There is a tall wooden railing, with spindles, surrounding the deck. A portion of the railing on each side of the steps is somewhat shorter. Defendant's Exhibits 3, 5, 11. The back door opens into a back porch which is enclosed.

Upon approaching the back door to Defendant's residence, Officer Miller observed, on a railing to his left, a jar with a red plastic cap containing a darkish-yellow liquid on the top, with a white substance on the bottom. The officer suspected the substance in the jar was used in the manufacture of methamphetamine. The officer knocked on the back door three times. There being no response, the officer looked inside the back door to see if he could see anyone. The officer did not enter the enclosed back porch. Although he saw no persons inside the residence, he observed a burnt sweatshirt on the floor, and a square brown bottle with a white cap in the back porch. The bottle appeared to be of the type that would contain hydrogen peroxide or iodine.

Next, Officer Miller went around the house to the front door and knocked twice. There are steps with a railing at the front door to the residence. Defendant's Exhibits 1-2. No one answered the front door.

<sup>9</sup>The Court believes the officer intended to testify he was again driving westbound on North Street (rather than on North Main Street). The Officer used the word, "again," suggesting a repetition of his previous route, and he testified the truck at the rear of Defendant's residence was not visible from North Main Street.

<sup>10</sup>The officer had been to the residence some months earlier concerning the suspected theft of Defendant's property. At that time, the officer accompanied the Defendant into the residence through the back door. Inside the residence, the officer observed the front foyer area was blocked by items. Based on his observations during the earlier investigation, the officer believed the front entryway was not being used at that time as a means of entering or leaving the residence.

The officer then returned to the rear of the house via the driveway, from where he could see a shed in the Defendant's backyard, a burn barrel and a blue barrel next to the shed.

The front of the shed, the side of the shed facing the barrels<sup>11</sup>, and the barrels themselves, are visible from steps at the rear door of the residence. Defendant's Exhibits 10-11. The back of Defendant's residence, the deck, the side of the shed facing the barrels and the general area around the barrels are all visible from the adjacent lot where Officer Miller parked his patrol vehicle. Commonwealth's Exhibit "B".

The officer proceeded to walk to the rear of the house and back toward the area of the truck. The officer suspected meth production, based upon his observation of the jar with the red lid. From the vantage point of the truck, prior to walking behind the shed, the officer observed Coleman fuel cans, a butane torch and a small, green Coleman propane bottle. The officer next proceeded to walk around debris and weeds to the left of the shed in the backyard and around the back of the shed, for the stated reason of making sure there were no persons back there. The officer testified that, as there was no one inside the vehicle and he believed there was no one inside the house, he continued to search for whoever the owner of the truck might be. The officer did not find anyone behind the shed or backyard area. The officer next looked into the bottom of the burn barrel where he saw additional items.<sup>12</sup> Around the burn barrel, the officer observed more Coleman cans, some empty blister packs, a stripped lithium battery and lithium battery packaging. The officer knew from experience that the items he observed were items used in the manufacture of methamphetamine.

Officer Miller called his Chief to apprise him of the situation. Officer Miller then contacted another officer, Officer Duell, and arranged for him to secure the property while Officer Miller went to the Albion Police Station to obtain a search warrant. The application for the search warrant contained information provided by both Officers Miller and Duell. Neither officer entered the residence prior to obtaining the search warrant.

The search warrant was admitted in evidence at the suppression hearing as Commonwealth's Exhibit "A". The Affidavit of Probable Cause dated July 31, 2015, lists, inter alia, the items which Officer Miller observed from the time he entered the Defendant's property up to his return to the backyard area near the truck, after knocking on the front door, as follows: 1.) an open box of Sudafed decongestant non-drowsy pills, found above the glove box of the truck<sup>13</sup>; 2.) a green sweatshirt that appeared to be burnt; 3.) a square brown bottle with a white cap which appeared to be a bottle of iodine or peroxide (both the sweatshirt and brown bottle were observed on the ground or floor, inside the rear door of the residence); and 4.) the jar with a red plastic lid containing yellow liquid and a white substance, observed on the railing of the rear deck.<sup>14</sup> Affidavit of Probable Cause, "Section C. Facts and Circumstances", appended to Application for Search Warrant, Commonwealth Ex. "A".

Officer Miller maintained the sole reason he entered onto the Defendant's property and

remained there throughout his investigation was his belief someone may have needed aid, based upon the 45-minute length of time the officer assumed the truck door had remained open and the officer's observations there was no one around. The officer had no information from any source that someone was in distress at the house; that someone was inside the residence; or that there was anything illegal going on in the house.

The officer maintained he knocked on the back door to check on the welfare of whoever owned the truck, or was on the property. The officer admitted he could have first gone to the front door and knocked instead of initially going to the back door. He admitted he was unaware whether the objects he had seen blocking the inside of the front door three months earlier remained there when the officer returned. The officer admitted he could have simply left the residence when no one answered the front door.

DISCUSSION AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Omnibus Pre Trial Motion

Defendant asserts an illegal search and seizure occurred on July 31, 2015, and all evidence obtained on that date, and the fruits thereof, should be suppressed. The Defendant asserts that Officer Miller entered Defendant's property without probable cause, consent of the owner, or a valid search warrant, on the pretext of conducting a "welfare check." During the "welfare check", the Defendant contends the officer trespassed upon the curtilage of the property and conducted an illegal search of a vehicle and the curtilage. Defendant asserts the curtilage of Defendant's property included the back porch, the rear of Defendant's residence, and the area around the burn barrel, and is constitutionally protected pursuant to Florida v. Jardines, 133 S.Ct. 1409 (2013). Defendant asserts Officer Miller had no right to enter the curtilage. The Defendant asserts the search was conducted in violation of the Fourth Amendment to the United States Constitution, and Article 1, Section 8 of the Pennsylvania Constitution. Therefore, Defendant argues, any evidence seized as a result of the post-warrant search must be suppressed as fruits of the poisonous tree.

Alternatively, Defendant asserts the officer improperly remained on the property without a warrant longer than was necessary to conduct a welfare or safety check, and the items seized as a result of the officer's observations from that point on are fruits of the poisonous tree and should be suppressed.

In response to the suppression motion, the Commonwealth asserts Defendant had no reasonable expectation of privacy protected by the Fourth Amendment at the driveway or back porch of the residence, thus, any evidence observed from the back porch was not protected. The Commonwealth asserts the officer reasonably believed the rear door was the primary entrance to the house, based upon the officer's experience months earlier, when he observed objects in the front foyer area which appeared to impede use of the front door. The Commonwealth asserts that any citizen with the officer's knowledge would have used the back door.

The Commonwealth asserts that analysis under Fourth Amendment scrutiny does not begin until Officer Miller left the Defendant's driveway and walked toward the shed and the burn barrel. Even then, the Commonwealth asserts the officer did not illegally intrude, because the officer possessed the reasonable belief, based upon the totality of circumstances, including the fact the officer observed that the vehicle door had been open for 45 minutes, that someone might need medical or emergency assistance, and thus, an exception to the warrant requirement was present.

In the alternative, if the Court concludes a search warrant was required, the Commonwealth requests that the Court suppress only those items observed by Officer Miller when he was in an area deemed by the Court to be a protected area. In that event, the Commonwealth requests the Court to examine the Application for Search Warrant and determine whether probable cause still existed to search the residence without the excluded items.

“Once a motion to suppress has been filed, it is the Commonwealth’s burden to prove, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the challenged evidence was not obtained in violation of the defendant’s rights.” Commonwealth v. Wallace, 42 A.3d 1040, 1047-1048 (Pa. 2012). See also, Pa.R.Crim.P. 581(H).

A search undoubtedly occurs when “the Government obtains information by physically intruding on a constitutionally protected area”. United States v. Jones, 132 S.Ct. 945, 950, n. 3 (2012). See also, Florida v. Jardines, 133 S.Ct. 1409, 1414 (2013).

“Absent probable cause and exigent circumstances, warrantless searches and seizures in a private home violate both the Fourth Amendment and Article I §8 of the Pennsylvania Constitution.” Commonwealth v. Bowmaster, 101 A.3d 789, 792 (Pa.Super. 2014); Commonwealth v. Gibbs, 981 A.2d 274, 279 (Pa.Super. 2009). “These constitutional protections have been extended to the curtilage of a person’s home.” Commonwealth v. Bowmaster, supra; Commonwealth v. Gibbs, supra.

The curtilage of a home is the area “immediately surrounding and associated with the home”, and is “part of the home itself for Fourth Amendment purposes.” Florida v. Jardines, supra, quoting Oliver v. U.S., 466 U.S. 170, 180 (1984). “While the boundaries of the curtilage are generally ‘clearly marked,’ the ‘conception defining curtilage’ is at any rate familiar enough that it is ‘easily understood from our daily experience.” Florida v. Jardines, supra, quoting Oliver v. U.S., supra at 182, n. 12. In determining what constitutes “curtilage”, the court is to consider “factors that determine whether an individual reasonably may expect that an area immediately adjacent to the home will remain private.” Commonwealth v. Bowmaster, supra; Commonwealth v. Gibbs, supra; Commonwealth v. Eichler, 2016 WL 410018, *6 (Pa.Super. 2016). “Curtilage is ... a place where the occupants have a reasonable expectation of privacy that society is prepared to accept.” Commonwealth v. Bowmaster, supra; Commonwealth v. Eichler, supra. The front porch is a classic example of curtilage for Fourth Amendment purposes. Florida v. Jardines, supra at 1415.

However, our state courts have recognized police officers may enter the curtilage to conduct an investigation. See Commonwealth v. Eichler, supra at *7 (“police officers have the authority to enter the curtilage for the purpose of conducting an investigation”) (emphasis added). See also, Commonwealth v. Gibson, 638 A.2d 203, 207 (Pa. 1994)(police officers have the authority “to knock on the doors of the citizens of this Commonwealth for investigatory purposes without probable cause”)(emphasis added). And in Florida v. Jardines, the United States Supreme Court recognized, “a police officer not armed with a warrant may approach a home and knock, precisely because that is ‘no more than any private citizen might do.’” Florida v. Jardines, supra at 1416, quoting Kentucky v. King, 131 S.Ct. 1849, 1862 (2011). The “implicit license” to knock “typically permits the visitor to approach the home by the front path, knock promptly, wait briefly to be received, and then (absent invitation to linger longer) leave.” Florida v. Jardines, supra at 1415. “The scope of a license - express or implied - is limited not only to a particular area but also to a specific purpose.” Id.

Further, “entry onto the curtilage generally is not a Fourth Amendment violation when the curtilage is used by the public.” *Commonwealth v. Eichler, supra at *7.*

With regard to the requirements of probable cause and exigent circumstances when a warrantless search is conducted, the legal standard for probable cause is well-recognized.

Probable cause is made out when ‘the facts and circumstances which are within the knowledge of the officer at the time . . . , and of which he has reasonably trustworthy information, are sufficient to warrant a man of reasonable caution in the belief that the suspect has committed or is committing a crime.’ The question we ask is not whether the officer’s belief was ‘correct or more likely true than false.’ Rather, we require only a ‘probability and not a prima facie showing, of criminal activity.’ In determining whether probable cause exists, we apply a totality of the circumstances test.

Commonwealth v. Thompson, 985 A.2d 928, 931 (Pa. 2009)(internal citations omitted). See also, Commonwealth v. Gibson, 638 A.2d 203, 206 (Pa. 1994). Mere suspicion is not a substitute for probable cause to conduct a valid search and seizure. Commonwealth v. Gibson, supra; Commonwealth v. Kelly, 409 A.2d 21, 23 (Pa. 1979); Commonwealth v. Parker, 619 A.2d 735, 739 (Pa.Super. 1993). “[T]he evidence required to establish probable cause for a warrantless search must be more than a mere suspicion or a good faith belief on the part of the police officer.” Commonwealth v. Copeland, 955 A.2d 396, 400 (Pa.Super. 2008), citing Commonwealth v. Lechner, 685 A.2d 1014, 1016 (Pa.Super. 1996). “Without a showing of probable cause, the Commonwealth cannot claim an exigency exception to the warrant requirement.” Commonwealth v. Gibson, supra.

In determining whether exigent circumstances exist to support a warrantless search, the Pennsylvania Supreme Court has stated as follows:

Among the factors to be considered are: (1) the gravity of the offense, (2) whether the suspect is reasonably believed to be armed, (3) whether there is above and beyond a clear showing of probable cause, (4) whether there is strong reason to believe that the suspect is within the premises being entered, (5) whether there is a likelihood that the suspect will escape if not swiftly apprehended, (6) whether the entry was peaceable, and (7) the time of the entry, i.e., whether it was made at night. These factors are to be balanced against one another in determining whether the warrantless intrusion was justified.

Other factors may also be taken into account, such as whether there is hot pursuit of a fleeing felon, a likelihood that evidence will be destroyed if police take the time to obtain a warrant, or a danger to police or other persons inside or outside the dwelling. Nevertheless, police bear a heavy burden when attempting to demonstrate an urgent need that might justify warrantless searches or arrests.

Commonwealth v. Roland, 637 A.2d. 269, 270-271 (Pa. 1994)(quotations and citations omitted). See also, Commonwealth v. Bowmaster, supra at 794; Commonwealth v. Lee, 972 A.2d 1, 3-4 (Pa.Super. 2009).

“The remedy for an illegal search is an exclusion of all the evidence derived from the illegal search.” Commonwealth v. Gibson, supra at 206-207, citing Mapp v. Ohio, 367 U.S. 643, 655, 657 (1961). “[T]he inclusion of illegally obtained evidence will not invalidate a search warrant if the warrant is also based upon other sources which are valid and sufficient to constitute probable cause.” Commonwealth v. Cosby, 335 A.2d 531, 533 (Pa.Super. 1975).

1. Entry into the Backyard

The backyard and rear deck were clearly part of the curtilage of the residence. The backyard exhibited uses that were extensions of home life. The backyard contained a deck attached to the home. The deck itself was also curtilage, raised from the ground, attached to the house, bounded by a railing of various heights with spindles, and containing a table and chairs. There was indication fires had been made in the backyard, and a burn barrel there was used for burning activity. A shed in the backyard suggested further use of the backyard as an area associated with the home.

The backyard of the residence was relatively private. In many areas, the backyard was bounded by trees and shrubs. On one side, a sloped area formed an obvious boundary between the backyard and the adjacent parking lot. The majority of the backyard, including that portion of the driveway in the backyard where the truck was parked, was not visible from the street in front of the house. Based upon these factors, an individual would reasonably expect the rear deck and backyard to remain private, and Defendant had a reasonable expectation of privacy in these areas.

Even though Defendant’s backyard and deck were curtilage, Officer Miller stopped to investigate whether someone was in peril, and upon entering the property for that purpose, he was “licensed” to investigate by briefly looking into the passenger compartment of the truck in the backyard, and knocking at the back door on the deck. See Florida v. Jardines, supra at 1415; Commonwealth v. Eichler, supra at *7; Commonwealth v. Gibson, supra at 207. The officer’s prior use of the back door several months earlier to enter the residence with the Defendant, and the officer’s observations at that time inside the residence of the obstructed front entryway, reasonably led the officer to believe the back door was commonly used as a means of entry to the residence, even for guests or private citizens.

2. Approach at the Front Door

When no one answered the back door, Officer Miller was justified in knocking on the front door of the house. The front steps and the front door to the residence were clearly curtilage. See Florida v. Jardines, supra at 1415. The front door was separated from the street by a front yard. There were steps and a railing leading from the front yard to the front door. A private citizen not having any familiarity with Defendant’s residence could reasonably be expected to knock on the front door for whatever purpose brought the citizen to the residence. However, Officer Miller was “licensed” to continue his investigation by briefly knocking at the front door. See Florida v. Jardines, supra at 1415; Commonwealth v. Eichler, supra at *7; Commonwealth v. Gibson, supra at 207.

3. Departure from Front Steps and Return to Backyard Area Near the Truck

It was improper for Officer Miller to return to the area of the truck in the backyard, after there was no answer to the officer’s knocks at the front door. The backyard of Defendant’s residence was curtilage, as previously discussed. The scope of the officer’s license to investigate whether a person was in peril at Defendant’s residence ended when there was no answer to the officer's knocks at the front door. "[T]he scope of a license -- express or implied -- [to investigate] is limited not only to a particular area but also to a specific purpose." Florida v. Jardines, supra at 1416. "...[T]he background social norms that invite a visitor to the front door do not invite him there to conduct a search." Id.

Nothing but a warrantless search occurred after the officer finished knocking at the front door. There was no reason to further "investigate." The backyard area was visible to the officer from the parking lot where he parked the police cruiser, and from the back steps of Defendant's residence. Commonwealth's Exhibit "B"; Defendant's Exhibits 10-11. The officer observed no one as he exited the police cruiser, transversed the backyard to the truck, inspected the inside of the truck, and walked to the Defendant's back door. The officer observed no one as he turned from the door, descended the deck steps, and walked down the driveway to the front of the residence to knock on the front door. The officer satisfied himself there was no one in the residence, after knocking at both the back and front doors and receiving no answer. There were no visible or audible signs of foul play at the residence. The officer admitted there were no signs anyone was in distress or that there was anything illegal going on. The only thing out of the ordinary to the officer was, a door to a truck in the backyard was open and had remained open, the officer assumed, for approximately 45 minutes.

When Officer Miller returned to Defendant's backyard and to the area of the truck, areas which were constitutionally protected, a search undoubtedly occurred. See, e.g., United States v. Jones, supra at 950, n. 3. The officer's testimony that, upon returning to the backyard, his motive was to continue to search for a person in peril or the owner of the truck is accorded little weight. The behavior of Officer Miller, once he left the front steps and re-entered the backyard area near the truck, objectively reveals a purpose to conduct a warrantless search.

The crux of this case becomes whether, when Officer Miller departed the front steps for the driveway in order to return to Defendant's backyard, there existed both probable cause and exigent circumstances that would have justified Officer Miller's warrantless return to the backyard, and the area of the truck. See Commonwealth v. Fickes, 969 A.2d 1251, 1255 (Pa.Super. 2009).

Officer Miller lacked probable cause to return to the Defendant's backyard, after knocking at the front door. The facts and circumstances within the officer's knowledge at the time, and of which he had reasonably trustworthy information, were not sufficient to warrant a man of reasonable caution in the belief "that the suspect has committed or is committing a crime."

When the officer was heading back down the driveway to return to the backyard, the officer merely believed some unknown person might be in peril, based upon his earlier view of the open vehicle door and the assumption he had formed that the door had been open for 45 minutes. The officer did not believe a crime had been committed or was being committed. The officer had no "victim" in mind, and there was no "suspect." The officer admitted he had no information from any source that someone was in distress; that someone was inside the residence; or that there was anything illegal going on at the house. The officer's mere suspicion the glass jar with red lid he had observed on the deck railing had something to do with the production of meth did not constitute probable cause to return to the backyard. Mere suspicion is not a substitute for probable cause to conduct a valid search and seizure. Commonwealth v. Gibson, supra; Commonwealth v. Kelly, supra at 23; Commonwealth v. Parker, supra at 739. Moreover, this was not even the officer's stated reason for returning to the backyard.

Without a showing of probable cause, the Commonwealth cannot claim an exigency exception to the requirement for a search warrant. See Commonwealth v. Gibson, supra at 206. Assuming, arguendo, the Commonwealth had established probable cause, it nonetheless failed to establish exigent circumstances to support the warrantless search, under the Roland factors. See Commonwealth v. Roland, supra at 270-271.

When Officer Miller left the front steps, re-entered the backyard, and re-approached the area of the truck, Officer Miller did not believe an offense had occurred or was occurring, thus the factor concerning the gravity of the offense cannot be established. There was no suspect, thus no belief a suspect was within the premises, and no belief a suspect would escape if not swiftly apprehended. There was no interference with the officer's entry upon the premises. The officer's entry was during the day. Analysis of these factors dictates the warrantless search by Officer Miller in returning to the Defendant's backyard was illegal.

Analysis of the other factors identified by the Court in Roland also dictates the search was illegal. There was no hot pursuit of a fleeing felon. There was no evidence of a likelihood that evidence would be destroyed if the police had taken the time to obtain a warrant. Likewise, there was no evidence of danger to police or other persons inside or outside the dwelling. There was no evidence a person was in danger or in peril. There were no physical or audible signs or evidence that anyone was in danger or had been hurt. No one was even found on the premises at that point. No urgent need was identified that might have justified a warrantless search at the time the officer decided to return to the backyard area and re-approach the area of the truck. Accordingly, lacking any exigent circumstances, the officer should have obtained a search warrant before continuing his investigation by returning to the Defendant's backyard, after leaving the front steps. See, Commonwealth v. Lee, 972 A.2d 1, 4 (Pa.Super. 2009). By failing to do so, Officer Miller violated Defendant's constitutional rights to be free from unreasonable searches. The officer's observations from that point on, and the fruits thereof, must be suppressed. The remedy for an illegal search is an exclusion of all the evidence derived from the illegal search. Commonwealth v. Gibson, supra at 206-207.

4. Review of Affidavit of Probable Cause

The last inquiry is whether, excising the items from the Affidavit of Probable Cause which were illegally viewed, the remaining items provided probable cause to obtain a search warrant. See Commonwealth v. Cosby, supra at 533.

The items lawfully viewed by Officer Miller were those items the Officer viewed prior to returning to the area of the truck in the backyard, after knocking at the front door. These items are listed in the Affidavit of Probable Cause, and analyzed herein, as follows:

1. One open box of Sudafed decongestant, non-drowsy formula (found on glove box of truck);
2. A green sweatshirt that appeared to be burnt (found inside the enclosed porch at the back of the residence);
3. A square brown bottle with a white cap which appeared to be a bottle of iodine or hydrogen peroxide (found inside the enclosed porch at the back of the residence); and
4. A jar with a red plastic lid, containing a yellow liquid, a white substance, and a thin brown layer at the bottom (found on the railing of the rear deck).

Affidavit of Probable Cause, "Section C. Facts and Circumstances", appended to Application for Search Warrant, Commonwealth Ex. "A".

The open box of Sudafed decongestant, non-drowsy formula, found on the glove box of the truck, did not alone, or together with the other three items, provide probable cause to obtain a search warrant. This is an over-the-counter, non-prescription medication. Although Sudafed can be used in the production of meth, the quantity - one box - of this common decongestant, on a vehicle glove box, is not sufficient to warrant a person of reasonable caution in the belief a crime has occurred or is in the process of occurring. Moreover, the officer did not provide any testimony about the significance or lack thereof of finding this item. He did not even testify about this item at the suppression hearing.

Neither the green sweat shirt, nor the brown bottle of iodine or hydrogen peroxide with a white cap, alone or together with the other items, provided probable cause to obtain a search warrant. Neither item would warrant a person of reasonable caution in the belief a crime has occurred or is in the process of occurring. There was no testimony regarding the significance of the article of clothing, a nondescript sweatshirt. There was no testimony regarding the significance of the bottle of iodine or hydrogen peroxide, a typical household item.

The single jar with the red lid found alone on the back deck railing in the middle of the summer did not provide probable cause to obtain a search warrant. It did not, together with the other three items, provide probable cause to obtain a search warrant. Officer Miller testified he suspected the substance in the jar was related to the production of meth. The officer's suspicion does not satisfy the requirement of probable cause. The Court is unable to conclude that Officer Miller had probable cause to associate the jar, or the substance in it, with any criminal activity.

The items lawfully viewed by Officer Miller on the day in question did not constitute probable cause to obtain a search warrant for Defendant's property. Testimony and evidence about the items observed by Officer Miller, and all evidence seized pursuant to the warrant, must be suppressed as fruit of the poisonous tree. Wong Sun v. United States, 83 S.Ct. 407, 417 (1963).

Application for Writ of Habeas Corpus

In the Application for Writ of Habeas Corpus, the Defendant asserts the Commonwealth failed to present a prima facie case at the preliminary hearing to support any of the allegations in the criminal information. The Defendant asserts there was no evidence at the preliminary hearing the Defendant was present at the residence at the same time as the officer; there was no evidence placing Defendant at the residence during any time the items were on the premises; the sole person present was Robert Klingensmith. Defendant asserts there was no testimony connecting Defendant with the substances or paraphernalia on the premises. Defendant asserts the only related testimony was a hearsay statement allegedly made by Klingensmith, after Miranda warnings, to Agent Brett Bailor.<sup>15</sup>

The Commonwealth relies upon the record as established at the preliminary hearing, in support of its request to deny the Application.

The Rules of Criminal Procedure allow hearsay evidence alone to establish a prima facie case at a preliminary hearing. Pa.R.Crim.P. 542(E); Comment to Pa.R.Crim.P. 542; Commonwealth v. Ricker, 120 A.3d 349, 357 (Pa. Super. 2015). Defendant had no state or federal constitutional right to confront Klingensmith in person at Defendant's preliminary hearing. See Commonwealth v. Ricker, supra at 362. Moreover, Defendant had the opportunity at the Preliminary Hearing to fully cross-examine the witnesses, including Officer Duell, who encountered Klingensmith at Defendant's residence, and subsequently interviewed him at the police station, Transcript of Proceedings, Preliminary Hearing held October 26, 2015 (Tr. P.H.), pp. 22-30, and Trooper Shawn Massey, one of the members of the CLRT Team who responded to the search warrant and found Defendant's driver's license inside the residence, Tr. P.H., pp. 6, 12-15.

The hearsay statements of Klingensmith were admissible hearsay at the preliminary hearing. A prima facie case against Defendant was established. The Application for Writ of Habeas Corpus shall be denied.

ORDER

AND NOW, to-wit, this 7th day of April, 2016, upon consideration of Defendant's Omnibus Pre-Trial Motion and Application for Writ of Habeas Corpus, and after an evidentiary hearing and the submission of briefs, it is ORDERED as follows:

1. The Defendant's Omnibus Pre-Trial Motion is GRANTED. Testimony and evidence about the items observed by Officer Miller, and all evidence seized pursuant to the search warrant issued on July 31, 2016, must be suppressed as fruit of the poisonous tree.
2. The Defendant's Application for Writ of Habeas Corpus is DENIED.
