In Memoriam

Donald J. Rogala

August 9, 1947 - April 9, 2018

Donald Joseph Rogala, Esq., age 70, passed away peacefully in his home on Monday, April 9, 2018.

Don was born and spent most of life in Erie, Pennsylvania, where he was a well-respected attorney. He was a graduate of Cathedral Preparatory School, received his bachelor's degree from Gannon University, and completed his law degree at the Dickinson School of Law. Don was the Erie City Solicitor in his early law career. He was also a U.S. Army Veteran.

Having grown up in the automobile industry, Don was a race enthusiast and restored and collected classic cars. He was also an avid horseman and enjoyed trail riding well into his final years.

Don exceeded all medical estimates as a five-year pancreatic cancer survivor, which is a testament to his tremendous strength and perseverance.

Don was preceded in death by his parents Donald Charles Rogala and Margaret Dorothy (Harvey) Rogala.

He is survived by two daughters: Allison R. Rogala DVM (Donald "Chip" Little) of Holly Springs, N.C. and Jennifer H. Rogala (Justin Kennedy) of Frederick, Md.; two sisters: Susan Rogala and Darlene Omark, both of Erie; four nephews; and a niece.

Memorials may be made to the Shriners Hospital for Children of Erie, 1645 W. 8th Street, Erie, PA 16505.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

v.

MARQUIS P. KNIGHT, Defendant

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE / ARD

Under Pennsylvania law, district attorneys have the sole discretion in any criminal case, including drunk driving cases, to move for the admission of a defendant into ARD.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE / ARD

Admission to an ARD program is not a matter of right, but a privilege.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE / ARD

When the district attorney denies a defendant's admission into the ARD program, the trial court's role is limited to whether the Commonwealth abused its discretion.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE / ARD

Although a district attorney has broad discretion to accept or reject a candidate for ARD, the district attorney's authority is subject to the following judicially imposed restrictions: (1) an open, on-the-record specification of reasons which are (2) related to society's protection or the defendant's rehabilitation.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE / ARD

A district attorney may not reject a candidate for ARD where the decision to reject the candidate is wholly, patently, and without doubt unrelated to the protection of society or the likelihood of a candidate's success in rehabilitation, such as race, religion, or other such obviously prohibited considerations.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE / ARD

Although the reasons for denying a candidate into the ARD program may be subject to disagreement as to their wisdom, such reasons do not amount to an abuse of discretion so long as said reasons are related to society's protection or the defendant's rehabilitation.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE / ARD

The Commonwealth does not bear the burden of proving the absence of abuse of discretion; rather, the defendant has the burden of proving the Commonwealth's denial of his request to participate in ARD was based on prohibited reasons.

IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS OF ERIE COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA

CRIMINAL DIVISION

No. CR 2013 of 2016

Appearances: Michael W. Harmon, Esq., on behalf of Marquis P. Knight (Defendant)

John H. Daneri, District Attorney, on behalf of the Commonwealth

OPINION

Domitrovich, J.

April 4, 2018

The matter before this Trial Court is Defendant Marquis P. Knight's "Motion to Compel Admission to ARD Program," wherein Defendant Marquis P. Knight ("Defendant") requests permission to participate in the District Attorney's Accelerated Rehabilitative Disposition ("ARD") Program. The issue is whether the District Attorney has abused his discretion in not accepting Defendant's request for admission into the District Attorney's ARD Program.

This Trial Court provides the following analysis:

The District Attorney's ARD Program is a pretrial diversionary program as provided by the Pennsylvania Rules of Criminal Procedure and statutory case law. See Pa.R.Crim.P. 300-320; see also 75 Pa.C.S.A. § 1552. When a defendant successfully completes the ARD Program by complying with all ARD conditions, absent an objection by the Commonwealth, the "judge shall thereafter dismiss the charges against the defendant." Pa.R.Crim.P. 319. "When the judge orders the dismissal of the charges against the defendant, the judge also shall order the expungement of the defendant's arrest record." Pa.R.Crim.P. 320(A); see also Commonwealth v. Armstrong, 434 A.2d 1205, 1208 (Pa. 1981) (holding that a petitioner who successfully completes the ARD Program is entitled to expungement). On the other hand, where a defendant is not accepted into the ARD Program and is convicted of a criminal offense, the procedure for expungement is generally more onerous under the Criminal Record Information Act than the expungement procedure pursuant to the ARD rules. See 18 Pa.C.S.A. § 9122.

A criminal complaint was filed against Defendant on April 20, 2016. Thereafter, Defendant filed an application for the ARD Program on July 6, 2016. On August 23, 2016, the Erie County District Attorney's Office filed an Information charging Defendant with (1) DUI-General Impairment; and (2) DUI-Highest Rate. Defendant was initially approved for the ARD Program; however, on November 30, 2016, the docket indicates the "event track [was] changed to [a] standard court case from ARD" due to Defendant's new charges at Docket Number 3771 of 2016: (1) First Degree Murder; (2) Aggravated Assault; (3) Recklessly Endangering Another Person; and (4) Possessing Instruments of a Crime.

Throughout the pendency of the proceedings at Docket Number 3771 of 2016, counsel for Defendant, Michael W. Harmon, Esq., filed motions to continue at the above-referenced docket number on the following dates: February 21, 2017, April 25, 2017, September 6, 2017, November 30, 2017, and March 21, 2018. Defense counsel and Defendant continually averred in each motion to continue that Defendant was "zealously defending the charges filed against him at Docket No. 3771 of 2016 and believe[d], and therefore aver[d], that he [would] receive a favorable outcome at his trial." (See e.g. Defendant's Motion to Continue at ¶ 5, filed Feb. 21, 2017). Defense counsel and Defendant further averred the purpose of continuing the instant case was "to re-apply for the ARD program in the above-captioned matter following a favorable outcome at Docket No. 3771 of 2016." (Id. at ¶ 7). On December 8, 2017, following a jury trial on the homicide-related charges, Defendant was acquitted of all criminal charges at Docket Number 3771 of 2016.

By letter dated January 24, 2018, Defendant, by and through Attorney Harmon, resubmitted Defendant's original ARD application originally filed July 6, 2016, to the District Attorney's Office. However, by letter dated February 22, 2018, Erie County District Attorney John H. Daneri denied Defendant's new request to be accepted into the ARD Program. District Attorney Daneri provided the following reasons in support thereof in his letter dated February 22, 2018:

Defendant perjured himself during his homicide trial; Defendant is a member of an Erie gang; Defendant refused to cooperate with authorities in the homicide investigation.

On March 15, 2018, in response to District Attorney Daneri's letter, Attorney Harmon filed the instant Motion to Compel Admission to ARD Program. A hearing was held on Defendant's Motion to Compel Admission to ARD Program on March 29, 2018, at which Defendant was present and represented by his counsel, Attorney Harmon, and District Attorney Daneri appeared on behalf of the Commonwealth. At said hearing, Defendant called as a witness Eric V. Hackwelder, Esq., who was Defendant's counsel for the homicide trial at Docket Number 3771 of 2016. Defendant then testified on his own behalf at said hearing. Defendant testified he was not affiliated with any gang-related activity. In addition, Defendant testified he was previously employed as a drug and alcohol counselor before his DUI arrest in the instant matter and that before he could return to his counseling position, his criminal record needed to be expunged.

Under Pennsylvania law, district attorneys "have the sole discretion in any criminal case, including drunk driving cases, to move for the admission of a defendant into ARD." Commonwealth v. Lutz, 495 A.2d 928, 932 (Pa. 1985). A defendant's admission into ARD is not a matter of right, but is a privilege as stated in well-established case law. Id. (citing Commonwealth v. Armstrong, 434 A.2d 1205, 1208 (Pa. 1981) ("Our rules give district attorneys broad discretion to select which crimes and which individuals qualify for diversion into ARD")). Thus, when the Commonwealth denies a defendant's admission into the ARD program, the trial court's role is limited to whether the Commonwealth abused its discretion. Commonwealth v. Sohnleitner, 884 A.2d 307, 313 (Pa. Super. 2005). "While the district attorney's discretion is broad, and appellate review of such decisions is narrow, the district attorney's power is not completely unfettered and is subject to the following judicially imposed restrictions: 1) an open, on-the-record specification of reasons which are 2) related to society's protection or the defendant's rehabilitation." Commonwealth v. Morrow, 650 A.2d 907, 910–11 (Pa. Super. 1994).

Indeed, "a district attorney may base a decision to grant or deny admission to ARD on any consideration related to the protection of society and the rehabilitation of the defendant" unless such decision is "wholly, patently and without doubt unrelated to the protection of society or the likelihood of a person's success in rehabilitation, such as race, religion or other such obviously prohibited considerations." Sohnleitner, 884 A.2d at 313 (quoting Commonwealth v. Jagodzinski, 739 A.2d 173, 176 (Pa. Super. 1999)) (emphasis in original). Any policy by the District Attorney which is "rationally related to society's protection or an individual's ability to succeed under the program is acceptable and is not considered an abuse of discretion." Morrow, 650 A.2d at 911. The Commonwealth does not bear the burden of proving the absence of abuse of discretion; instead, the defendant has the burden of proving the Commonwealth's denial of his request to participate in ARD was based on the aforementioned prohibited reasons. Id. As such, so long as the district attorney's decision is related to the "protection of society or the likelihood of a person's success in rehabilitation," the trial court is not in a position to inquire further and the district attorney's decision will stand. Id.

In the instant case, at Defendant's homicide trial at Docket Number 3771 of 2016, and at the hearing held on March 29, 2018, Defendant testified in both instances that he had no gang affiliations. District Attorney Daneri disagreed and argued that Defendant is involved in gang-related activities. District Attorney Daneri stated law enforcement authorities had data and other intelligence provided by the Erie City Police Department showing Defendant's involvement in gang-related activities. District Attorney Daneri defined a “gang” as an affiliation of individuals who are criminally associated. District Attorney Daneri stated that if Defendant were accepted into the ARD Program, Defendant would similarly be untruthful with his probation officer concerning efforts to rehabilitate Defendant pursuant to the ARD Program’s objectives, and Defendant would not cooperate with directives from probation officers.

Moreover, District Attorney Daneri indicated that, in the past, individuals associated with gangs have been rejected for consideration for the ARD Program. Based on the aforementioned intelligence gathered by the Erie County Police Department, District Attorney Daneri enumerated various gangs in Erie, including “Shid Nation” and “Four Nation.” District Attorney Daneri stated he knows from the data and intelligence about Defendant’s involvement with the gang known as “Shid Nation.” District Attorney Daneri also concluded his refusal to allow Defendant to participate in the ARD Program was for the protection of society. Thus, his policy of refusing individuals associated with gang-related activities into the ARD Program is “rationally related to society’s protection or [Defendant’s] ability to succeed under the [ARD] program,” and District Attorney Daneri’s policy is, therefore, an acceptable basis upon which to deny any defendant’s—including this Defendant’s—admission into the ARD Program. See Morrow, 650 A.2d at 911.

Furthermore, Attorney Harmon argued District Attorney Daneri refused Defendant’s admission into the ARD Program based on “personal reasons.” District Attorney Daneri insisted he did not abuse his decision by rejecting Defendant’s admission into the ARD Program on any prohibited factor, such as race or religion. Rather, District Attorney Daneri articulated specifically in both his letter and in open court his reasons for denying Defendant’s request for admission into the ARD Program, and his reasons are clearly related to the protection of society and the likelihood of Defendant’s successful rehabilitation. See Commonwealth v. Jagodzinski, 739 A.2d 173, 176 (Pa. Super. 1999) (internal quotations omitted) (“District attorneys are . . . required openly to specify their reasons for not submitting a particular case to ARD, and those reasons, while they may be subject to disagreement as to their wisdom, do not amount to an abuse of discretion.”).

Based on the foregoing reasons, this Trial Court enters the following Order:

ORDER

AND NOW, to-wit, this 4th day of April, 2018, at the time of the scheduled hearing on the Motion to Compel Admission to ARD Program, filed by Defendant, by and through his counsel, Michael W. Harmon, Esq.; at which Defendant Marquis Knight was present and represented by his counsel, Michael W. Harmon, Esq., and District Attorney John H. Daneri appeared on behalf of the Commonwealth; and after hearing testimony from Eric V. Hackwelder, Esq., as well as testimony from Defendant; and after oral argument from both counsel; and upon review of the relevant statutory and case law; and consistent with the foregoing analysis in the above Opinion, it is hereby ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED that Plaintiff’s Motion to Compel Admission to ARD Program is DENIED.
